

Ask Me Anything!

"Bridging the Gap: How to combine clinical work and research"

Join us in our free "Ask Me Anything" session

Wednesday 7th December 4pm Australian EST (summer time)

The aim of our AusACPDM sessions are to share our experiences and learnings of how clinicians combine clinical work and research.

Topic information: Health professionals across a variety of disciplines will share their gems of how to work clinically and also combine their research interests in their workplace. This is an informal "Ask Me Anything" session and will be of interest to clinicians and researchers who share dual roles and those who would like to know how to develop both roles.

Speakers: Professor Susan Stott, Dr Simon Paget, Dr Simon Garbellini, Dr Noula Gibson, Pam Thomason, Dr Kelly Weir

The session will be facilitated by: Dr Sian Williams
