The Participation – Inclusion in Action Conference aims to address the gap between the desired participation of children and youth with disabilities in activities that matter to them and their current opportunities.

WHAT IS THE CONFERENCE ABOUT?

The conference is a platform where individuals and families with lived experience, health and education practitioners, researchers, policy makers and other professionals working with persons with disabilities can share knowledge, provide practical solutions, and keep pushing the boundaries of participation.

WHAT DO WE HOPE TO ACHIEVE?

Attendees will gain insight from international and local experts and devise sustainable approaches to improve accessibility and autonomy in a range of life situations and settings. We aim to connect and create collaborations to understand on-the-ground issues and identify gaps in knowledge and action.

IS THIS CONFERENCE FOR ME?

Yes, if you are:

- Working with children and youth with disabilities
- Working in an organisation/role that is actively involved in advancing participation for children and youth with disabilities
